Honorable Councilmembers,

Due to COVID19, thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena. We need our community to be able to return to work quickly once it is safe to do so. Returning to jobs that were earned before the COVID19 situation is the best way to do this. Please provide guidance in the form of policies to ensure companies give workers laid off/ furloughed, etc. priority opportunities to return to their jobs before replacing them with new hires.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Dear Assistant of Mayor Araceli, Honorable Mr. Mermell, Honorable Mayor Tornek, District 1 Council Member Tyron Hampton, and Honorable District Council Members.

I am writing to support loyal employees keeping their jobs over corporations making a profit. Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks, dishwashers, and other hotel employees built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Pasadena needs to show support for their citizens and not corporations. Glendale, Los Angeles County and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs as business returns. Pasadena needs to show support to workers and ensure they will have their job when it is safe and proper measures are in place to minimize exposure to COVID-19 in their workplace. Please support a similar worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protection. Thank you.

Many business received massive bailouts, and they MUST not be allowed to use those bailouts to line their own pockets. It is despicable.

There is clear action you can take.

Honorable Councilmembers,

You know how devastating the COVID pandemic has been for service workers. I'm a USC Professor and I've been fortunate enough to retain my job. But I've been working with our laid off hospitality workers and I have seen just how important the right of retention is for them and their families. If we want California's economy to come back, we need to provide a guarantee to these thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, who have lost their jobs.

All around us—in Glendale, Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles—workers have that right. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protection they deserve.
