

Martinez, Ruben

From: Peter Mehit <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 5:36 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Peter Mehit
pmehit@aol.com
157 N. Raymond Avenue
Pasadena, California 91103

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: LESLI LYTLE <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 5:34 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve.

LESLI LYTLE
lesli.lytle@yahoo.com
1819 N Kingsley
Los Angeles, California 90027

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Rory Williams <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 5:31 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve

Rory Williams
rory.l.williams@gmail.com
485 S. Los Robles Ave Apt 5
Pasadena, California 91106

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Janean PRESTON <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:36 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Janean PRESTON
janeanp50@gmail.com
150 S CRAIG AVE
Pasadena, California 91107

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Lori Nelson <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:29 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers.

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel here in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Lori Nelson
lorijnelson@me.com
591 Eaton Dr
Pasadena, California CA

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: seekthewelfareofthecity@gmail.com <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:28 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Support Item #6/ Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers.

Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks and dishwashers built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Glendale, Los Angeles County and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs as business returns. Please support a similar worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protection.

seekthewelfareofthecity@gmail.com
100 S Altadena Dr. #1
Pasadena, California 91107

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Mindy Pfeiffer <mindypfeiffer@sbcglobal.net>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:15 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Stand With Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers.

I am writing to you today to urge you to direct City Staff to draft an ordinance to protect hospitality workers. It's item #6 on Monday's City Council agenda.

The Pasadena City Council can provide a lifeline to hospitality workers by passing an ordinance giving the workers the right to be recalled and retained. This means workers laid off because of the pandemic are guaranteed the ability to return to their jobs when the crisis subsides. Glendale recently joined the cities of Long Beach, Los Angeles and County of Los Angeles to pass an ordinance that protects hospitality workers from unfair and unjust labor practices.

Two weeks ago, the Council passed legislation to support businesses in the wake of COVID-19. Now's the time for Mayor Tornek and the City Council to join with these neighboring communities and pass a worker recall and retention ordinance. It's the right thing to do.

Sincerely,

Mindy Pfeiffer

Mindy Pfeiffer
mindypfeiffer@sbcglobal.net
773 Bevidere Street
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Catherine Beauchamp <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:05 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel here in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Catherine Beauchamp
clhediting@gmail.com
534 MacDonaid St.
Pasadena, California 91103

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Joseph Stewart <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:04 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve.

Joseph Stewart
joseph.rex@gmail.com
710 S. Oak Knoll Ave.
Pasadena, California 91106

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Chris Wells-Weitzner <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:03 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena

Chris Wells-Weitzner
chriswsquared@gmail.com
965 Worcester Ave
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Rocio Castro <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:37 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel here in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Rocio Castro
rocioisabelcastro@gmail.com
3139 Alameda st
Pasadena, California 91107

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Corina James Scribner <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:36 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel here in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Corina James Scribner
coco10xc@gmail.com
871 Pear Ct.
Upland, California 91786

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Joanna Nagata <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:32 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: We Need and Retention for Hospitality Worke

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers.

Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks and dishwashers built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Glendale, the City and County of Los Angeles, and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs when business returns.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Please support a worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protections other workers in our region have.

Joanna Nagata
joanna.mcneil@gmail.com
65 N San Marino Ave
Pasadena, California 91107

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Max DoVale <Modovale@my.loyno.edu>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:31 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Max DoVale
Modovale@my.loyno.edu
5402 S Tonti St
New Orleans, Louisiana 70125

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Katherine Cante <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:26 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve.

Katherine Cante
kcante245@gmail.com
70 n meridith Ave apt 6
Pasadena, California 91106

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Thomas Clavin <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:38 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Thomas Clavin
tclavin1980@gmail.com
475 E Washington Blvd
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Kathryn Kroger <kkroger@sbcglobal.net>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 6:37 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Support Item #6/ Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers

Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks and dishwashers built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Glendale, Los Angeles County and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs as business returns. Please support a similar worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protection.

Kathryn Kroger
kkroger@sbcglobal.net
700 South Lake Ave., Unit 309
Pasadena, California 91106

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Kaley Ngo <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 9:07 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers

Please protect our most vulnerable workers by passing a law to protect hotel workers laid off during this unprecedented pandemic. There is so much inequality in our society and passing this protection (which other cities like Glendale and Long Beach have already done) will help alleviate some of this spiraling inequality.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Kaley Ngo
ngo.kaley@gmail.com
1531 N. Raymond Ave
Pasadena, California 91103

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: David Cunningham <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 9:06 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Support Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks and dishwashers built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Glendale, the City and County of Los Angeles, and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs when business returns.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Please support a worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protections other workers in our region have.

David Cunningham
cunninghamdf@yahoo.com
1038 E. Elizabeth Stre
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Norman Thomas <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 8:47 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs. These extremely difficult circumstances and economic uncertainty are greatly exacerbated when workers do not have a commitment that they will be able to return to their jobs when business conditions improve. That is the experience of long-time workers at the Langham Huntington Hotel here in Pasadena.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Norman Thomas
nethomas2@gmail.com
2889 SAN PASQUAL ST
Pasadena, California 91107

06/29/2020
Item 6

Jomsky, Mark

From: Pepi Feinblatt <pepi1655@att.net>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:03 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Support Item #6/ Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers.

Pasadena's housekeepers, cooks and dishwashers built our city's hotel industry through their backbreaking work, and now these low-wage workers are among the hardest hit by the COVID-19 crisis. Glendale, Los Angeles County and Long Beach have done the right thing and passed common sense policies that will ensure hotel workers a right to return to their same jobs as business returns. Please support a similar worker recall and retention law to ensure Pasadena hotel workers have the same protection.

Pepi Feinblatt
pepi1655@att.net
1174 N Hudson Ave
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Daniel Brummel <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:58 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Comment on Item #6/Right of Recall and Retention for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

After 9/11, the City of Santa Monica passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced by the economic impact of 9/11 would return to work. Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed similar policies to deal with the economic insecurity wrought by the COVID-19 pandemic. Please support a similar law here in Pasadena.

Daniel Brummel
daniel.brummel@gmail.com
1235 N Mar Vista Ave
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: James Eaton <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:57 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve.

James Eaton
jpeaton36@gmail.com
2215 Loma Vista St
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Farrah Walton <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 7:45 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve

Farrah Walton
walton_farah@yahoo.com
1369 N Los Robles Ave
Pasadena, California 91104

06/29/2020
Item 6

Martinez, Ruben

From: Andrea Lofthouse <info@email.actionnetwork.org>
Sent: Sunday, June 28, 2020 11:29 PM
To: Public Comment
Subject: Item #6/ Retention and Recall for Hospitality Workers

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Honorable Councilmembers,

Thousands of hard-working hospitality workers, including many Pasadena residents, have lost their jobs.

After suspending operations of the hotel on April 8th, management of the Langham Huntington sent letters to workers at the end of May saying they "made the difficult decision to permanently separate" with the workers, terminating their employment as of May 28th. Despite the workers' contributions to the hotel, the company did not make any commitment to recall them when business resumes.

Glendale, the City of Long Beach, and the County and City of Los Angeles recently passed a right of recall policy to ensure that hotel workers displaced because due to the COVID-19 pandemic would be rehired. Please support the Pasadena recall and retention law to ensure our hard-working hospitality workers also get the protections they deserve.

Andrea Lofthouse
andrea.q.lofthouse@gmail.com
930 North Monterey Street
Alhambra, California 92801

06/29/2020
Item 6