TO:

CITY COUNCIL

DATE:

May 18, 1998

FROM:

CYNTHIA J. KURTZ, ACTING CITY MANAGER

SUBJECT:

TRANSFER OF THE MEDICAL WASTE GENERATOR INSPECTION

PROGRAM TO THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF

HEALTH SERVICES

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the City Council take the following actions:

- 1. Adopt a resolution to transfer the Medical Waste Generators Inspection Program from the Public Health Department to the State of California Department of Health Services so that enforcement of California Health and Safety Code, Chapter 6.1 of Division 20, resides with the State Department of Health Services, Medical Waste Management Program.
- 2. Direct the City Attorney Office to draft an ordinance to repeal Section 8.81 of the Pasadena Municipal Code, Medical Waste Management Act.

BACKGROUND

California Health and Safety Code, Chapter 6.1 of Division 20, Medical Waste Management Act, was enacted in 1991 to protect health care facility and landfill personnel and the general public from unnecessary exposure to wastes containing potentially communicable pathogenic organisms. This legislation was enacted in response to incidents where medical wastes were being illegally dumped into the ocean and washing up on California beaches. The legislation ensures that medical waste is properly stored and disposed of by the businesses who generate the waste.

Upon implementation of the Medical Waste Management Act, the State requested Los Angeles County Department of Health Services and the three cities of Long Beach, Vernon and Pasadena to assume this program within their jurisdictions because the State did not have the necessary resources to regulate the large inventory of businesses to be inspected. Pasadena, Vernon and Long Beach agreed to assume the enforcement program within their environmental health divisions, but Los Angeles County opted not to be the lead enforcement agency for the rest of the county. The State Department of Health Services eventually provided the necessary staffing resources to cover the rest of the county, except in Long Beach, Vernon and Pasadena.

Under the Medical Waste Management Act, the California Department of Health Services has specific enforcement authority. This authority was passed on to the local health jurisdictions that accepted responsibility for the inspection program and includes: 1) regulating businesses that produce more than 200 pounds of medical waste a month, including acute care hospitals such as Huntington Memorial and St. Luke Medical Center; 2) regulating businesses that use on-site chemical or heat treatment to render their medical wastes non-infectious; and (3) investigating all complaints related to improper disposal of medical waste.

Regulated businesses pay $400 to $500 (based on amount of waste produced and number of beds, if applicable) to partially offset the cost of enforcement, inspection and education activities. Collection of these fees results in approximately $2,500 annually. Collection of these fees will transfer to the state along with responsibility for the program.

While the Pasadena Environmental Health Division operated the Medical Waste Generators Inspection Program for the city during the past six years, the State Department of Health Services (SDHS) managed the program for the rest of Los Angeles County. The SDHS Medical Waste Management Program is a specialized division which performs this function throughout the state. The transfer of this non-mandated program will be beneficial to the community since the state program ensures expertise and resources which allow economies of scale in performing the inspections and enforcement activities. The SDHS will easily absorb the additional six applicable businesses located in Pasadena. The return of the program to the SDHS has been approved by the State. Local acute care hospitals are also inspected by the Health Care Facility Division of the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services which regulates the facilities and enforces some of the requirements for the storage and disposal of their medical waste.

It is recommended that the City Council adopt a resolution to transfer the Medical Waste Generators Inspection Program from the Public Health Department to the State of California Department of Health Services, effective retroactively to February 1, 1998. The enforcement of the California Health and Safety Code, Chapter 6.1 of Division 20, would reside with the State Department of Health Services, Medical Waste Management Program.

It is also recommended that the City Council direct the City Attorney Office to draft an ordinance to repeal Section 8.81 of the Pasadena Municipal Code, Medical Waste Management Act.

FISCAL IMPACT

The action by City Council will have no fiscal impact, since revenues normally collected under this program and appropriated to the Health Fund have not been included in the FY
