Recommendation: It is recommended that the City Council:

- (1) Find that the project proposed in the agenda report was subject to environmental review in the Environmental Impact Report certified by the City Council on August 16, 2016, and that there are no changed circumstances or new information which would require further environmental review;
- (2) Find that the findings and conditions of the original approval still apply;
- (3) Find that the proposed project meets the current height, setbacks, and floor area ratio requirements of the Zoning Code and is consistent with the General Plan, the Central District Specific Plan, and the Zoning Map; and
- (4) Based on these findings, approve the request for Time Extension for one additional year, to August 16, 2022.

AYES: Councilmembers Hampton, Kennedy, Madison,
Masuda, Rivas, Williams, Vice Mayor Wilson, Mayor
Gordo

NOES: None

ABSENT: None

ABSTAIN: None

Councilmember Williams stated that she will not vote in favor of the staff recommendation, as she believes fundamentally the findings to approve the Time Extension of the original approval cannot be made due to changes in current circumstances (i.e. market, conditions, technical analysis, etc.) related to the Environmental Impact Report approved by the City Council in 2016. In addition, she stated that the City is currently updating the City's Specific Plan.

Motion: Following further discussion, it was moved by Councilmember Kennedy, seconded by Councilmember Madison, to approve the staff recommendation:

AYES: Councilmembers Hampton, Kennedy, Madison, Masuda, Rivas, Vice Mayor Wilson, Mayor Gordo

- (1) Find that the proposed actions are exempt from the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA") in accordance with State CEQA Guidelines Sections 15061(b)3 ("Common Sense Exemption") and 15326, because they consist of the acquisition of housing for housing assistance programs;

DRAFT 2021-2029 HOUSING ELEMENT

Recommendation: It is recommended that the City Council authorize the Director of Planning and Community Development to submit the Draft 2021-2029 Housing Element to the California Housing and Community Development Department (HCD).

City Clerk Jomsky reported that 65 letters expressing concerns, providing comments and suggestions on the item, including a petition titled "Housing is a Human Right Make Housing Affordable in Pasadena" with a number of signatures, were received, distributed to the City Council, posted on-line, and made part of the public record.

David Reyes, Director of Planning and Community Development, presented a PowerPoint presentation on the item, including background information related to statewide housing requirements, housing challenges, local leadership, and responded to questions. Laura Stetson, representing MIG, Inc. (City consultants), presented a PowerPoint presentation summarizing the City's Draft 2021-2029 Housing Element; and responded to questions.

Councilmember Kennedy stated the following for the record:

"How many units of affordable housing, rental or for sale were created in the City over the past 8 years? The California Housing and Community Development Department Regional Housing Needs Assessment has determined that the City must produce 9,429 housing units, of which a little less than 6,000 must be affordable. What would it take to actually, realistically achieve the referenced number, in dollars...I would like to know if you thought about a dollar amount, zoning regulations, goodwill, et cetera? Is there anything that is presented in the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element that is affirmative, definitive, certain in actually building roughly 9,500 new units of housing? In my view, as one Councilmember, I have a strong feeling that the Housing Element as currently written reminds me of a fantasy movie many of us watched as kids...the Wizard of Oz. The protagonist in the movie is a little girl by the name of Dorothy who is displaced from her home in Kansas and somehow ends up in a place called Oz. Dorothy wants to go home to Kansas and is told that she must follow the Yellow Brick Road to the Emerald City to see the Wizard to get back home. So Dorothy and her tiny dog Toto set off on the journey to Emerald City. Along the Yellow Brick Road, Dorothy meets a Scarecrow, who wants a brain; a Tin Woodman, who seeks a heart; and a Cowardly Lion, who desires courage. Yes, to solve the housing crisis in Pasadena it will take brains, it will take many hearts beating together, and it will take courage unseen as of yet. When Dorothy finally meets the Wizard of Oz he offers to take her back to Kansas in his hot air balloon, a metaphor for those who would talk home but are unwilling to do what is necessary to create a number of houses mandated. Dorothy is left behind as she retrieves her little dog Toto who jumped out of the balloon's carriage. Dorothy is distraught and in tears. But, Glinda the Good Witch of the North appears and tells Dorothy that she always had the power to return home using the ruby slippers. Glinda instructs Dorothy to tap her heels together three times and say; "There's no place like home. There's no place like home. There's no place like home." There are literally thousands of people who once lived in Pasadena who have no ruby slippers but would like to come back home to Pasadena. There is no place like home! The 2021-2029 Housing Element must be different from past documents, more than an exploration, a study, a conversation, and an appeasement. We know better than to exclaim; "If I only had a brain, If I only had a heart, If I only had the Nerve." Again, we have a brain, heart and nerve! Working together we can solve the homeless and housing crisis in Pasadena. As you have already stated, the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element does not do that, but we as a Council, as you've already stated have the option of putting real teeth in this [Housing] Element. And I hope we will consider that and I would like to enter my comments for the record and have them officially part of the record and the element itself if appropriate. Thank you Mayor."

In response to Councilmember Kennedy's inquiry, Mr. Reyes responded that staff has not considered a dollar amount as the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element does not put forth requirements or plans for the City to build 9,000 housing units or 6,000 affordable units.

Councilmember Kennedy asked staff to provide information on the dollar amount staff believes it would take the City to meet the Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA) allocation for Pasadena.

Vice Mayor Wilson spoke on the importance of preserving the City's affordable housing units, which counts towards the City's RHNA numbers. He also spoke on the importance for the City to ensure sufficient green and open spaces related to new development; and asked that staff amend the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, Page 59, to accurately reflect that the City did not participate with RoomKey and HomeKey programs, but rather participated in a similar City program to allow for permanent conversion of motels for supportive and transitional housing.

The following individuals expressed concerns with the City's 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, and/or provided suggestions and comment on the item, including advocating for continued supportive, alternative, transitioning and affordable housing in the City; amend zoning regulations to allow affordable housing on religious properties; and tenant protections:

In response to public comment, Councilmember Kennedy stated the following: "I don't think he (the speaker) had any evidence to support his pronouncement that people who are day laborers do not pay taxes. And I think that's a slap at the efforts that this Council has supported. I certainly do not support the statement that was made. Thank you Mayor."

Councilmember Williams reported that she submitted detailed comments related to the text of the City's 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element to the Planning Department staff and City Manager. She spoke on the need for staff to focus on the administrative side/City policy related to the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, specifically strengthening the language on adaptive reuse of office, retail, etc., preserving existing naturally occurring affordable housing, vacancy tax, and No Net Loss Law that differs from the State (which may be defined as any units that are below market rate that are torn down and are replaced with like units in the new development). In addition, she recommended to revisit the inclusionary housing policy, specifically when counting 20 percent of the units to exclude the work force units in the calculation to encourage developers to build very low, low, workforce, and market housing. She asked staff to look at the City of Hayward's Housing Element and provide information to the City Council related to prevailing wages; and spoke on the need for staff to consider project/labor or prevailing wage agreement on some of the new developments. Councilmember Williams expressed concerns with the lack of connection of housing and jobs in the City's 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element; and recommended working with new employers (i.e. General Motors, Xencor) and provide a working population in the City for those companies by providing incentives or bonuses to such companies in exchange for contributions to the City's inclusionary housing funds or support the City's affordable housing or other efforts

Councilmember Hampton echoed Councilmember Williams' request for information on the City of Hayward's private developers prevailing wage policy. He expressed concerns with the lack of information in the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element on the City's goals related to housing security and interim housing, the City's goals to reach out to other government agencies that own property (i.e. Post Office, Caltrans), and homeownership opportunities. He advocated for the City to move forward with Accessory Dwelling Units (ADU) preset plans for City residents, and rezoning of land owned by churches and other religious organizations to allow for the building and providing of affordable housing.

Councilmember Madison echoed Councilmember Hampton's comments on the need for additional information and programs related to homeownership opportunities; and spoke on the need for staff to explore the repatriation of the Caltrans properties to the City along the 710 corridor.

Councilmember Rivas spoke in favor of approving the staff recommendation in order to keep the process moving, and also advocated for a more definitive Housing Element plan to address the housing crisis.

Councilmember Kennedy also asked staff to work with the Planning Commission and the Housing Task Force to continue to work on the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element taking into consideration City Council and public comments.

Vice Mayor Wilson expressed concerns related to the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, which has plenty of ideas, but he believes the ideas should be narrowed to policies.

Councilmember Williams spoke on the need for the City to work with other non-profit organizations (i.e. Villa Esperanza, PCC), and asked staff to ensure the City's Zoning Code Amendment to allow development of affordable housing on religious property also includes non-profit organizations. She stated that she believes Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, does not require a new ordinance, but rather staff should amend the City's zoning code to better support existing (i.e. William Carey International University, Fuller) and new institutional housing.

Councilmember Madison stated that he is not in favor of amending Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, Page 44 of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element as there is a strong movement to convert religious property into affordable housing; and that the current verbiage of Program No. 11 includes "...or other Zoning Approach" which addresses inclusivity.

Vice Mayor Wilson expressed concerns with directing staff to amend the Zoning Code, as he believes those instructions are staff level decisions. He recommended that the City Council approve the staff recommendation, research amending Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, Page 44 of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, return to the City Council with a recommendation, and include a sentence that would clarify longer term or secondary evaluation of other or similar opportunities of non-profit institutions to accommodate housing.

Mayor Gordo and Councilmember Kennedy spoke in favor of staff analyzing the recommended edits to Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, Page 44 of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element and return to the City Council with a recommendation.

Councilmember Rivas expressed concerns with amending Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, Page 44 of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element to include "Non-Profit Institutions" as the term does not include Pasadena Unified School District properties.

City Manager Mermell stated that the current draft of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element is sufficient to submit to the California Housing and Community Development Department (HCD), staff has benefited from the discussion on the item, and recommends the following amendment to Program No. 11, Alternative Housing Opportunities, Page 44 of the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element, Implementation, bullet point one: "Create standards and a review process for the establishment of affordable housing via a Religious Institution Housing Ordinance. And also explore opportunities on properties owned by non-profits as well as other Zoned PS or former school properties."

The City Council expressed appreciation and congratulated staff, Planning Commission, Task Force, residents, and consultants on their hard work and providing clarity on the 2021-2029 Draft Housing Element in order to manage the City Council and the community's expectations.
