Hello,

My name is Robin Smith and my husband is Lorin. We are writing to show support for Linda Rosa Market's appeal for a full liquor license. As we walk to this location 3 to 4 times weekly, we have never seen any crime, public drunkenness or other disruptions. We feel completely safe in the vicinity. The market closes early so having a full liquor license would not contribute to what ever crime is occurring in that area later at night. We are confident that the owners of the market will be responsible permit holders and will not sell to minors or anyone on "the do not sell to list." Also, there was talk of people "loitering" in the parking lot. They were merely taking their work breaks and while patronizing the store. We don't see them as often but they are very friendly and feel that they are no threat to the public. We always looked forward to seeing them. It actually had a nice community feel about it. There must be some kind of concessions that can be made. They already close early and another could be not selling the airline bottles of liquor that people will drink on the spot? We hope this can work out for everyone involved.

Thank you,

Robin Smith
