Al,

I'd phoned Sonya earlier today to tell her I was coming this evening but had to leave early. Because of increasing demands of my job, I'm having to resign this HR post. ☹️

I wanted to come in person to let you know because I've valued all my HR colleagues. I'll write a letter to Sonya this week to make it formal.

Thanks for your leadership, your stimulating viewpoints on issues, etc. I've enjoyed my "tenure." My vote at this point is: Don't merge but do re-invent. There's always room for self-analysis and growth.
